Why PathPerfect Career Analysis Report

According to the latest survey published, it is seen that between the ages of 18 – 30, an individual changes nearly 10 jobs. The basic idea behind this is that JOB and CAREER is different, unfortunately we mistake each as same. A person can change JOBS but career choice often remains same. Basically, we can conclude from this that regardless of what is our definition of an ideal career or job, an individual changes various jobs in his working life so as to aspire a satisfying life. The question that arises here is how to know what makes an individual happy and stress free in his career choice? Which is the career or job that is meant for him, so that, he need not change so many jobs and have a stable career for life. And unlike past, in today's 21st century where competition is so much in each and every field, wasting so many years of life is not a smart decision that one can afford to take. Hence PathPerfect is an ideal test to sort this dilemma and be confident in career choice.

Your Relationship Style

Your relationship style is again introvert preferring only a closed group of people or limited exposure to people at large Overall not preferring to socialize much or be in public space Prefers having his own space and having limited friends

One of the key elements of a successful relationship or business is Communication. It is very important to communicate well so that others understand and comprehend the things in the right manner without any misunderstanding. Thus, the way we communicate things is very important in each and every sphere of life to be successful. There are many types of communication with which people prefer to communicate to various relations like rational,emotional,prepared,conventional,empathetic,strategic,accurate,passive,aggressive and assertive communication.One of the greatest challenges we face in this 21st century is to create and maintain relationships with others. Our way of maintaining relationships will ultimately determine our existence in this world. Different styles are head over heart, heart over head, traditional, experimental, socializing or empathizing

Your Learning & Studying Styles

In order to have successful and bright students in the world, we first need to teach them in the way they find it easier to learn. The laying of the foundation in teaching, training and learning is very important as well as crucial. Thus, knowing a child's learning style is very important in this regards.

Your Problem Solving Style

In our hectic life with the number of interactions we come across each day, we make hundreds of decisions and nothing can affect us more than the ability to make the right decision and solve the problems effectively. Thus, an individual's problem solving strategy decides his state of mind as well as his quality of relations with others.

Mr ABC would tend to solve his problems first by analyzing himself without taking much of help and also digging dip by himself or share it with his close friends.

Overall he might show a tendency to liking to remain in his thoughts and also believe his thinking as he faces problems

We cannot solve our problems with the same thinking we used when we created them-

General Comments

Mr ABC has a very interesting brain profile that indicates an equal preference for both left and right brain hemispheres. He however has strong preferences in the top quadrants of the brain, often referred to as the 'thinking brain', with a L1/R1 profile. He would therefore prefer to work with facts and numbers, to dig deeper into information (L1), but also to have flexibility in his work and relationships and not too much structure in his environments. He would also gain satisfaction from knowing how his work and relationships fit into the bigger picture of his future vision and goals of life (R1). Strong support from the R2 quadrant also indicates his high regard for interaction with limited number of people and extending help in one way or other.

The thinking profile indicates that he might display qualities like being big picture oriented, very imaginative, future-oriented but strategic and analytical in his decisions too. He would love to embrace risks however with a great logical thinking and after ensuring he has put in enough thought behind it. He will be very creative and would love to generate new ideas on an ongoing basis. If he isn't feeling challenged and aren't constantly learning and growing, he'll feel restless or frustrated.

He might display a tendency to hate mundane jobs and hence may not prefer a desk job.

His ideas will not be vague, as his strong L1 will analyze them thoroughly before they are implemented. His intuitive thinking will also be a tool in this regard.

A frustration, he is likely to face is when his imaginative and futuristic ideas clash with his analytical and realistic outlook. This L1-R1 battle will be a cause for delay in decision-making or may even lead to anxiety once the decision has been taken. There is also a chance that he might think a lot of ideas but may not be able to filter them and apply them in a constant basis in view of his low L2, but if implementation is taken on by someone and his job remains to generate novel and innovative ideas, he will be able to perform without any trouble.

Overall his low L2 indicates that he might think a lot about all pursuits but might face challenges implementing it and will need constant support and push for the same

Overall his profile is a highly dominant upper brain or thinking profile with very little leverage to social interaction

Please see below the preferred careers based on the subjects he has chosen
